A very big industry

By JAMES A. SMITH

Agriculture is the nation's largest industry with assets totaling $927 million. This equals about 88 percent of the capital assets of all U.S. manufacturing concerns.

Agriculture is also the biggest employee with between 14 and 17 million people working at the tasks of food and fiber production.

A recent USDA study shows that the Average American ate 1402 pounds of food last year, but paid proportionately less for it than 20 years ago. Although consumer expenditures climbed 319 percent during these two decades, food gained less than other items. In 1960, about 20 percent of disposable income went for food. The recent study shows food took about 16 percent of last year's disposable dollar.

Americans are world leaders in meat consumption with 247.7 pounds consumed per capita. Argentina is in second place eating only 2.4 pounds less per capita. Australia and New Zealand rank third and fourth respectively.

Since 1960, shifts in consumption patterns have affected many products. Beef, for example, increased 21% from 64.3 to 78.1 pounds. Except for last year, beef consumption has been dropping annually since 1976. In '76 we ate 95.7 pounds per capita.

Last year, Israelis consumed 78.8 pounds per capita of poultry compared with 63.4 pounds for America.

Fire Cured Tobacco sales through December 1981 averaged $132.42 compared with $134.72 a year earlier.

Soybean seed sales are running slower than normal. This could possibly be an opportunity to get some good cash discounts because seed companies are anxious to get sales moving in order that they can clear out their warehouses and get a better idea of their inventory.

Travis is an early, high yielding sweet potato variety available for the first time this year. It was released from the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station.

Travis has a rose skin color and orange flesh. Roots are well shaped, slightly chunky and tapered to both ends with a smooth exterior surface. It matures earlier than Centennial or Jewel and should be examined at weekly intervals beginning 100 to 110 days after planting so harvest can be timed to obtain a maximum yield of U.S. No. 1 grade potaotes.

For some home gardeners who wish to grow their own tomato or flower plants, there are seedling kits on the market. The packets have space to grow 30 plants and come complete with seed, fertilizer, growing medium, seeding template, greenhouse cover and self-watering wick to insure the proper moisture and guard against soggy medium and weak root growth caused by overwatering.

Over the next several weeks there will be several performance bull sales around Virginia and adjacent states.

It's interesting to look back and observe the progress that's been made when you consider the average of all bulls tested. In 1959, the average daily gain was 2.58 pounds; in 1981 it was 3.06, an increase of 1.02 pounds a day in 22 years. Yearling weights for the same time period has risen from 835 pounds to 1034 pounds, an increase of nearly 200 pounds. Prices and numbers of bulls sold have also increased. In 1959 there were 64 bulls sold for an average of $636 and in 1981 there were 323 bulls sold for an average of $1500.

It is significant to point out that in Virginia the number of performance tested bulls available to Virginia producers has increased five times.

Happiness is 4-H

Share-the-Fun progams have been held each afternoon this week at Appomattox Elementary School and judges have selected top acts each day to perform in the county Share-the-Fun Show on February 27. Over 50 4-H'ers took part in Share-the-Fun at Pamplin Elementary School last week. Awards for 4-H Share-the-Fun programs are provided by the American Federal Savings and Loan Association of Appomattox.

Strawberry plants for 4-H members were ordered early this week. These plants should arrive in early March. 4-H families ordering strawberries will be notified when the plants arrive. Any unclaimed or extra plants will be offered to the public on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Lucky Clover 4-H Club enjoyed an evening of bowling last Saturday. It was the first time for many of the members to bowl. Members participating in the outing were: Glen McClenny, Jennifer Inge, Mtzi Baldwin, Kenneth McClenny, Tony Bailey, Craig Ranson, Ed Fulelher, Frankie Webber, Mark Letterman, Chris Webber, Kelly Webber and Brian Hudson.

* * *

4-H members who are interested in a limited investment, short term, livestock project may want to consider the Market Lamb Project. For a total investment of less than $100.00, a 4-H member can purchase a feeder lamb and the feed necessary to raise the lamb to market weight. In the process, the 4-H member learns about animal care, health, feed requirements and responsibility. In order to make 4-H members and parents aware of the lamb program, a 4-H Lamb-a-rama is scheduled in our area at the Farmville Fairgrounds on March 16. More details about this program will be available from the Extension Office.

Recently we had a short section in this column about a 4-H exchange trip to Japan and the need for adult volunteers to accompany the Virginia group. After talking with Virginia 4-H Director, Dr. Ken Dawson, I've learned that Virginia still has openings for 4-H members to apply for this month-long trip. 4-H members, aged 12 and up, may apply. Cost is approximately $1,850.00 and the dates are July 18-August 18. Dr. Dawson tells me he will be sending complete details about how to apply, deadlines, etc., in the near future.

J. E. Sears and Company will again have the pre-cut bluebird houses for sale this year. The cost will be $1.25. Bluebird houses need to be up in March as bluebirds begin searching for nesting sites early in the spring.

The new 4-H Sew for Fun series of projects have finally arrived. We have, in the Extension Office, units one, two and three in this new series of 4-H clothing projects.

Highway safety: part 2

Wintertime Safety on the Highway
[Part Two]

This is the second part of a two-part article on wintertime safety habits on the highway. This information was secured from the National Safety Council.

WAY TO GO is easy, especially in snow. If you do get stuck, here is the best way to get going again:

1. Don't gun it--You will spin your wheels and probably dig in deeper. First, turn your wheels from side to side to get the snow away from the front tires. Then in high gear, ease forward gently. Sometimes a rocking motion--alternately shifting from forward to reverse--will provide the way out. Read your owner's manual for advice on theat maneuver since it could cause transmission damage in your particular model of car.

2. It is a myth that reducing tire pressure increases traction. The flexing sidewalls only increase wear on the tires, but sand or a piece of carpeting on the wheels will give added grab. (Some people carry a carpet scrap in their car for this purpose.)

3. You can temporarily spray away start-up problem with some of the tire spray-on liquids, but they are more helpful on glazed type ice than in snow.

4. When you are on the way, keep the speed down. It is not only the safe way, but it is the save way, too.

WAY TO STEER--is steady. Sudden lane changes or turns can put you in a spin. Stay well back of traffic ahead on icy roads. You need lots of extra room for stopping.

ANTICIPATE INTERSECTIONS, EXPRESSWAY EXITS, ETC. Slow down well ahead of them. Remember that intersections can be extra slippery because of the polishing effect stopping and starting has on ice and snow.

BE WARY OF WARMING TRENDS. Ice is twice as slippery at 30° as it is at 0°. Ice patches in areas shaded by woods, deep highway cuts or underpasses can waylay you, too. If you hit one, steer steady and roll through. Slamming on the brakes will only put you in a tail spin.

If You Do Start To Skid, Don't Panic--Take your foot off the gas and turn your wheels in the direction the rear of the car is skidding. Straighten out when you feel the skid is corrected.

This winter, go all the way, the safe way. Remember the WAY TO START is early. Get your car ready before we have the bad weather and it begins failing. WAY TO SEE is alertly. Watch for danger from all directions. WAY TO GO is easy. Keep your speed down; have emergency gear ready and handy. WAY TO STEER is steady. Keep a safe following distance. Avoid sudden changes of direction.

This concludes a two-part article on wintertime safety on the highway. Hopefully, this information will help you save yourself from problems that you could have driving during our especially bad winter weather.

If you have a homemaking question or problem, you may call us at 352-8244 or write P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522.

Have a safe winter and a good week!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Cheddar Cheese Potage
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
½ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup all purpose flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups stock or 2 bouillon cubes dissolved in 2 cups boiling water
4 cups milk
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas and carrots, cooked
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash of cayenne pepper
4 cups (1 lb.) shredded Cheddar cheese
Chopped parsley

In heavy, 3 quart saucepan, melt butter and saute onion and celery until tender. Stir in flour and mustard. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in stock and half the milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook two additional minutes over low heat. Add remaining milk, peas and carrots with cooking liquid, Worcestershire sauce and cayenne pepper. Heat to simmering point. Remove from heat and stir in cheese until melted. If necessary, return to low heat to finish melting cheese; do not boil. Serve garnished with parsley. Freshly ground pepper may also be added to taste. Makes 10 cups.

Many thanks to Frances Wilson for sharing this delicious, nutritious soup that will warm your soul on a cold day.

Mt. Pleasant

First the ice, then the snow; then the ice and then the rain. But God blessed us through it all.

There was a large crowd at church Sunday. Our pastor's subject was, "The junior choir rendered beautiful music. The Rev. Napier delivered a wonderful sermon from the eighth chapter of Ezieklel with the theme, "The Greatest Sin."

Come out and worship the fourth Sunday of this month at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, where you are always welcome.

The Royal Supremes of Farmville will be singing at Chestnut Grove Baptist Church the third Sunday this month at 3 p.m. to benefit the Assembly.

The Williams family of Rice will be at Mt. Pleasant this Sunday at 5 p.m., sponsored by Mrs. Claudia Woolridge.

The Rev. and Mrs. Napier were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Chambers and Mrs. Odell Chambers. Tiny and Tyrone were also there to enjoy the delicious meal.

The Assembly of Appomattox will meet this coming Thursday night at 7:30. Please come out, we have a lot of catching up to do.

Miss Hattie Jones is a patient in Southside Community Hospital in Farmville. At last report, she was improving. Our prayers go out to all the sick and shut in, wherever they may be.

See you next week.

Mt. Shiloh News

"I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust." Psalm 91:2

Surely our souls must be hungry for the Living Word, because we've missed a couple of weeks from Sunday School and morning worship service due to inclement weather. Last week we gave praises and thanks to God for allowing us to assemble again for Sunday School. We will have regular morning service this Sunday at 11:00 a.m., if the weather is permissable.

Mrs. Mary Page has returned home from the hospital and is doing nicely. Let's pray in unity for Rev. Lawing and all who are sick and shut-in.

Our prayers go out to Mrs. Annie Jones, from the Mt. Airy community, in the loss of her son, Thurman. Remember, God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in the time of trouble.

Have a good week!

Counselors that attended were Merlyn Carroll, Jeanette Drinkard and Anne Moore.

Gravel Hill news

Worship services were held the fifth Sunday of January at the Gravel Hill Baptist Church. Guest speaker for the day was the Rev. Ernest Humbles.

Due to prevailing weather conditions on that particular date, attendance was down during the worship services. However, the message delivered during the Rev. Humbles' sermon was great, indeed.

The subject featured in the Rev. Humbles' sermon was, "Stop now, it's praying time." All present enjoyed this wonderful message.

The Humbles family rendered beautiful music during the service.

The Rev. Earl Jones will preach at the Gravel Hill Baptist Church the second Sunday in February at 3:30 p.m. All are invited to attend this event.

There will be a service at the Gravel Hill Baptist Church the third Sunday of the month at 11:30 a.m. Pastor for the service will be the Rev. James Miller. All are invited to attend.
